“Internationalisation of education through the implementation of COIL course”

The introduction of COIL courses in the educational process will be a solid foundation for the gradual inclusion of all teachers and students in the processes of internationalisation at the university

Project goals

- search for a partner university, establishing communication with the partner university, in particular its English teacher and administration, regarding cooperation in this direction;
- development of the course, including the inclusion of topics aimed at the development of intercultural awareness;
- conducting a survey of students of the Philological faculty regarding their awareness of and interest in the COIL course, as well as a survey of teachers of the Philological faculty regarding their interest in developing and implementing their own COIL course;
- implementation of one COIL course in the educational process of both educational institutions.
